5-Reading and writing:

Here is a great opportunity to share your talent with us! You will write about something you read that really touched your heart or made you think. The goal is share what you learned so that others will be encouraged to read and benefit from it.

So what are the guidelines?

1. It will be a summary of a book or an article that you've read.
2. The book can be religious, scientific, or a non-fiction story. Please, submit the name of the book or article prior to writing. If you don't have anything in mind, Taunte Inas can help you find a book.
3. The emphasis is on sharing with others what you learned and how it has helped you.
4. You are creative, so please use your own words; no copy and paste (plagiarism will result in disqualification).
5. Identify the book or article you read and the writer, as well as where you found the book or article.
6. Please, submit your typed report using "Times New Roman" font, size 12, double spaced. For those who cannot type, please write clearly in neat handwriting using blue or black ink.
7. It can be between 1-5 typed pages, double spaced.

Winners will have their report posted on the church's website.

We look forward to receiving your articles or reports!!
